INTRODUCTION

Loveable characters from England's farmyards and fields.

Vicky's much-loved animal portraits have been making an impact in London and the South of England for several years and we are delighted to introduce her portfolio more widely across the UK.

Vicky has always been well known for her superb paintings of hounds, but since relocating to a more rural area, this passion has broadened to include some of the other creatures she encounters on a daily basis whilst walking her dog. Her particular gift is to capture the personality of the animals she portrays, and whether that is the delight and robust energy of the hounds, the vitality of the busy farmyard birds or the curiosity but implicit sweetness of the cows, their individual characters are indeed brought out with every brushstroke.
